ABOUT ME

I'm Uriel, a 4th-year IT student currently hoping to graduate this year. I enjoy coding, especially in web development and design, and I also work with Canva and Figma to create digital content. I'm aspiring to be a virtual assistant, web developer, or digital designer, passionate about creating engaging digital experiences and helping businesses establish their online presence through creative design and development. I also like going to the gym and working out - fitness is an important part of my life, helping me stay healthy, focused, and energized while balancing my academic and professional pursuits.
